

5 CAUSES OF
CHRONIC ILLNESS
WHICH DOCTORS
NEVER CHECK

BY ADAM ROTH

Imagine this scenario... You develop an illness, go to the doctor to find out what is happening, and they say there is nothing wrong with you.

But you are sick. Sometimes, extremely sick. You definitely know something is wrong. But the doctor brushes it off as nothing, or maybe says it's all in your head, gives you an anti-depressant, and sends you on your way.

This is a common experience for most people on their road to suffering for years with a chronic illness. Sometimes (just to shut you up) the doctor will run a series of blood tests, to try and show you there is nothing wrong.

Of course, they enjoy their referral commission from this, and if you still persist with your claim that you are sick, the doctor will handball (Australian's will know what I mean) you over to another "specialist", so that they both get rid of you, and enjoy another referral commission.

This is the western doctor medical system. The cow comes in and they milk you through referrals, useless tests, and prescriptions, all the while keeping you sick and extracting as much money as possible.

Now, we could get angry at the doctors for treating us like this, but to be fair, it's not all their fault. They went to study medicine at a university which had its curriculum written by the pharmaceutical companies, and it is them who are behind putting this system in place.

While the doctors do love milking you so they can get their commissions to fund their fancy lifestyles, it is also true that they are ignorant in regards to how to really find out what is wrong with you.

To illustrate this, here are 5 common causes of chronic illness, that the western doctors are utterly clueless about, have no idea how to test for them, diagnose them, or treat them, because they were never truly taught (maybe glossed over at best) about them in their medical school.

1. Tooth Infections

Each tooth is connected to varying organs through energy meridians, so meaning that organ illnesses can come directly from infected teeth.

2. Electro-Magnetic Radiation

Live near power lines or phone towers, or work using wi-fi routers or mobile phones? The radiation exposure can cause dozens of diseases.

3. Mold Exposure

Known as the silent killer, once mold gets inside your body, it can stay forever, slowly poisoning you with its production of mycotoxins.

4. Parasites

Having great intelligence, parasites are experts at avoiding detection, while stealing your food and nutrients, and expelling toxic waste.

5. Chemical Exposure

Cleaning products, beauty products, and even supermarket food is full of harmful chemicals, and their consumption and use can make us sick.

If you have a chronic illness, since the doctor won't test for them, try checking these 5 common causes first by yourself. It may require a bit of self-study, or a little googling, but they are relatively easy to check, and you can overcome years of sickness just by eliminating them.
